

We shouldn't ban the carrying of concealed weapons in public places because the next thing you know we'll be banning hunting rifles too.

You can't prove that there isn't a God. Therefore God must exist.

I saw a bunch of drunk Buddhists beating up an old man the other day. I had no idea that Buddhism encouraged such behavior, but I guess it does.

A study funded by Monsanto corporation claims to show that the weed killer Roundup, which they manufacture, is not toxic to humans. That study can obviously be dismissed as propaganda.

These three prominent engineers believe that 9-11 was the result of a conspiracy, therefore there is a good reason to suspect that it was.

Getting rid of privacy and putting in place universal electronic surveillance is only a bad idea if you have something to hide. Since you oppose such surveillance, you clearly have something to hide.

Diagnoses of brain cancer went up shortly after "The Simpsons" first went on TV. Thus watching the Simpsons must cause brain cancer.

Eating dogs is wrong. Why? Because nobody I know does it!

Ghosts are real, I've seen them with my own eyes!

I refuse to take pills produced by pharmaceutical companies in their chemical plants! It is much better to take only all-natural herbal extracts.
